Wise Human Resources

The Wise Human Resources system enables businesses to manage information about all employees in one place, from the initial hiring process until retirement.

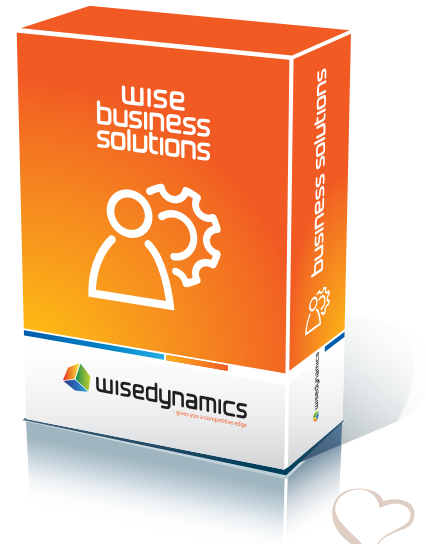

Basic information about the employee can be registered into the system, as well as information about qualifications, allocated equipment, etc.

The Wise Human Resources system provides a good overview of the employee's career where information about course attendance and continuing education is maintained. Other information such as absences, travelling allowances, illness, etc. is easily managed.

The system's web interface gives employees access to information about their vacation status and qualifications. Employees can maintain selected information in the web interface themselves.

The system is co-ordinated with the Wise Payroll System, Financial Accounting system, Sales system, Fixed Asset system and the Job system from Microsoft Dynamics NAV.

The Wise Human Resources system gives you a simple overview of the company's employees and the experience and knowledge concentrated within the company, as well as giving employees increased access to their personal information.
